Acknowledgments

This issue, filled with difficult stories of oppression and hope, would not have been possible without the tenacity and political commitment of our community, authors, and reviewers. As we challenge the notion of politics as harmonious, linear, and black or white, this issue is a tribute to them and to those who embrace ambiguity.

We would like to thank our advisory board, Arianne Shahvisi, Ebtihal Mahadeen, Elisabeth Armstrong, Fatima Sadiqi, Khoulood Mahdhaoui, Maie Panaga, Nadjé Al-Ali, Rola Yasmine, and Sawsan Abdulrahim, who challenge us and join their visions to ours.

The Arabic version of Kohl would not have been possible without the tireless work of our team of translators, Hanine El Mir, Hiba Abbani, Khoulood Fawwaz, Leen Hashem, Maya Ammar, and Safa Hamzeh, who generously accommodated our tight deadlines.

Once again, our writers and contributors have humbled us with their fierce determination and will to bring feminist knowledge to life. Thank you Allison Finn, Amira Mahmoud Othman, Esraa Husain, Joumana Talhouk, Lara Mansour, Mariam Mecky, Musa Shadeedi, Nour Abu-Assab, Nof Nasser-Eddin, and Zahra Abdallah for trusting us with your writings. We are also incredibly grateful to the student activists J, Raed, Rana, Sana, and Tee Mk, who have made their voices heard in our Openings section, and to Islam Khatib for her political mini-zine and her artwork illustrating this issue. We are honored to publish you in Kohl.

Our immense gratitude goes to the peer reviewers of this issue's editorial review board, Aicha Baccouche, Alaa Hijazi, Angie Abdelmonem, Arianne Shahvisi, Fadi Saleh, Isis Nusair, Jillian Grisel, Khoulood Mahdhaoui, Leen Hashem, Lisa Armstrong, Nadjé Al-Ali, Salma Shash, and Shereen Abuelnaga, who have generously provided us and the authors with detailed and thoughtful feedback. We look forward to future cooperation.

We would like to thank Heinrich Böll Stiftung and their Middle East Office in Beirut for their continuous financial support since Kohl's beginnings. In particular, we wish to thank Noor Baalbaki for her patience and support. We are grateful for the support of Mama Cash, particularly Refilwe Moahi, Chantelle de Nobrega, and Mandisa Sibanda, as well as the support of Astraea Lesbian Foundation for Justice, particularly Mariam Gagoshashvili.

The Kohl Team,
Ghiwa Sayegh and Roula Seghaier
